Experiments

Here you are able to disable the auto-deactivation of device cores on the Blue Pill. This is sometimes necessary when working with device cores across multiple Blue Pills.

There is also the possibility to use a different algorithm for Reactor that may improve performance in some instances. As it is not fully tested, we do not recommend using it in a production capacity.

Guide:

- Use any browser to access the Blue Pill via its IP address

- To access the Experimental page write /experiments after the IP

Example: XX.XX.XX.XX/experiments
